

Kelly Noyes, CVT

Kelly Noyes is a 2001 graduate of MIM/Argosy University and became a board-certified veterinary technician the same year. Highlights of Kelly's career as a veterinary technician include holding positions at the University of Minnesota Veterinary Teaching Hospital as a surgery case coordinator, instructor in a veterinary technology program, and in an urgent care clinic working with small animals and exotics.

When not working to help our furry, feathered and scaly friends, Kelly enjoys walking in the woods with her two shepherd dogs Zelig and Patina, going to the theater, and traveling to see family and friends.
